Discovery College Scholarship Application Information

Before you apply…
The online scholarship application requests a variety of information about you, as a scholarship applicant, and your achievements, involvement, and interests.

Please note that responses to the following information should be prepared in advance or easily available so that you can complete the application online in one sitting.

Demographics and Background information

- Your name, address and phone number
- Your parents' names, contact information and occupations
- Your language background, including levels of fluency in English, Cantonese or other languages
- The amount of any educational allowance being paid by your parents' employer or other source, if applicable

Interests and Involvement

- You should prepare a personal statement (300 words or less) about your interest and achievement in the category of the scholarship for which you are applying. This is an opportunity to highlight special achievements, and should focus on the past two (2) years. Prepare this thoughtfully in advance, and then copy and paste it into your online application.
- Provide a listing of the following, focusing on interests and involvements within the past two years
  - hobbies, interests, sporting or leisure activities
  - school responsibilities
  - community involvement

Future Aspirations

- Briefly share some of your goals and aspirations for your future at Discovery College and beyond, including the career you have in mind and other important goals you have.
- Briefly share what you like about Discovery College, how you see yourself contributing to the College or what you can contribute if you will be a new student.

Referees
You will also be asked to provide the name and contact information for two individuals who could serve as referees for you. This could include a current or former teacher, coach, pastor or other individual who knows you well. The scholarship committee may contact these individuals for additional information if needed.

Students not currently enrolled at DC will also be asked to provide the following information:

- HKID and/or passport number, and current visa status
- Name, address, and dates attended for all previous schools
